DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 11-23 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 30 October 2007.

Claim Objections

Claims 6-10 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claims 6-9 recite method steps in an apparatus claim. Claims must be directed to a single statutory class only (35 USC 101). Method steps in an apparatus claim are not given patentable weight.

Claim 10 recites "the polymer-type fuel cell"; however, no antecedent basis exists. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, and 4-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Castillo (US 6,019,946). Castillo teaches the claimed invention, a combustion-type gas sensor comprised of a gas detection element [24a] enclosed in a case [18,24] (Figure 12), comprising an induction portion made of an oxidation catalyst powder (Catalyst A, comprising Pt) and an insulating powder (e.g., frit and vehicle) fixed to a Joule heater (column 15 lines 32-34; column 16 lines 15-49); see column 10 line 65 through column 11 line 60; see also column 15 lines 5-55. With respect to the process steps claimed in claims 6-9, no structural limitations are present that would further limit the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Castillo (US 6,019,946) in view of Murphy (US 5,964,089). Castillo teaches the claimed invention except for use in a fuel cell gas outlet. Murphy teaches the use of Pt-catalytic hydrogen gas sensors in the exhaust of an electrolytic fuel cell vehicle (column 24 lines 20-29). It would have been obvious to use an electrolytic fuel cell vehicle as the gas source as taught by Murphy since this would advantageously extend the capabilities and usefulness of the gas sensor of Castillo.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Castillo (US 6,019,946) in view of Moseley "Solid State Gas Sensors". Castillo teaches the claimed invention except for the induction portion comprising an interior insulating body and an exterior catalytic body. Moseley teaches the formation of a pellistor gas sensor by depositing an insulator member from a slurry followed by an overcoating of a catalytic member from a slurry; see page 20. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the induction portion comprising an interior insulating body and an exterior catalytic body as taught by Moseley in the invention taught by Castillo, since Moseley teaches that such a structure for standard pellistor gas sensors, and would be advantageous due to its known utility and properties.
